The “Collaborative Entrepreneurial Education” project is training students to develop the necessary skills to start a business in the sector of textile and graphic design. Over 200 students from Chișinău (the Republic of Moldova) and Iași (Romania) have taken part in an entrepreneurial education programme within the project, gaining new skills in marketing, business plans, risk management and the ABC of finance, enabling them to kick off their own project. Young people participated in study tours to several textile companies to get acquainted with the day-to-day business. The project partners created a database with participating companies from both countries, to facilitate connections between the academic and private sectors and to provide employment and training opportunities to the future generation of entrepreneurs.
